

Corey Ames received his Bachelors of Music Education degree from VanderCook College of Music and his Masters of Music in Music Education through Boston University. Currently, he is a Band Director and Woodwind Specialist at Deer Path Middle School in Lake Forest, IL. Previously Mr. Ames was Director of Bands and Music Theory at Loyola Academy High School and a Private Clarinet Instructor in Lake County, IL. Mr. Ames was selected to be the assistant music director for the Illinois All- State Theatre production of Urinetown in 2010.

In addition to teaching responsibilities, Mr. Ames is currently the director of the Libertyville Village Band. Mr. Ames has also played clarinet as a member of the Northshore Concert Band, Waukegan Municipal Band, Saginaw Eddy Concert Band and the former Honsinger Symphonic Wind Ensemble. Mr. Ames is a 4-time quarterfinalist for the Music Educator Grammy and a recipient of the NAMM Support Music Merit Award. Mr. Ames is a member of the D'Addario Education Collective. He is a sought after judge and clinician in the Chicagoland area.